

Privacy Policy

At Consolidated Asset Recovery Systems (“CARS”), protecting the confidentiality and privacy of information you share with us is a fundamental part of our work.

This Privacy Policy explains how and why we collect, use, and share information, including personal information, when you visit this website.

We do not sell personal information. We collect, use, and share personal information from this website solely to support the marketing of our services, and for other operational and administrative purposes. CARS is a business-to-business provider of services. Our services are not marketed to, or intended for, consumers.

INFORMATION WE COLLECT

When you visit our website, we collect information from your browser about the pages you visit.

When you fill out a form on our website, we collect personal information about you (e.g., name, email address, phone number, and any other information you provide in our form’s text field), which you voluntarily provide in order to receive information or other services from CARS. Keep in mind that our website form will collect whatever data you write into our form’s text field; we therefore recommend that you not include sensitive personal information when you write to us.

When you email personnel at CARS, we collect your email contact information, which may be stored in our customer relationship system, which keeps track of the personnel with whom you are communicating, and the services in which you have expressed interest.

When you provide employment information through our “Careers” link in our website, we collect the information indicated in that form that you may provide, including first and last name, email and physical address, phone number, whether you are over 18, immigration status, criminal conviction information, employment history, educational background, personal reference information, and any information you may provide in any resume you send us and/or type into any form field. The Careers link also gives applicants the option to voluntarily identify their gender, ethnicity/race, veteran status, and any disability.

We do not knowingly collect information via this website for anyone under the age of 18, nor do we market our services to them. If you are under eighteen (18), you should not provide any personal information to us.

WHERE WE GET PERSONAL INFORMATION

Directly from you, such as when you fill out an online form or communicate directly with our personnel

Indirectly from you, when you browse our website

HOW WE USE PERSONAL INFORMATION

CARS may use and/or disclose your personal information it collects from this website for marketing, operational, and administrative uses. These uses may vary depending on the nature of our relationship with you, but may include:

- To provide you with the information that you have requested
- To communicate with you about products and services
- To operate, troubleshoot, analyze and improve our website and digital services
- As reasonably necessary and appropriate, to detect or prevent fraud, to comply with legal obligations, or protect yours, ours, or others' rights
- To fulfill other purposes permitted or required by law
- To evaluate you for employment, if you have sought employment through the "Careers" link in our website
- For other uses disclosed to you, with your consent

WHEN WE SHARE PERSONAL INFORMATION

We share information with third parties when necessary to market our services, when we have your consent, or when required by law.

CARS may share personal information with its affiliates and subsidiaries for the purposes set out in this policy. However, under no circumstances does CARS sell, trade, barter, or exchange the information.

Where applicable, we may disclose your personal information to third parties involved in the marketing operations and administration of CARS. When required, we obtain written contractual assurances from these third parties that their privacy and security practices are in accord with applicable legal requirements. We also may disclose your personal information to third parties where we sell or merge any or all of our business and/or our assets to a third party, or where we are legally required to disclose your information.

CARS uses third-party service providers to support our marketing program. With all website visitors, even those who do not complete any forms or otherwise seek our services, certain information is automatically collected through the use of third-party service Google Analytics and similar technologies. This information helps us administer, protect, and improve our services; analyze usage; and improve users' experience.

Through Google Analytics, the website collects online identifiers, including cookie identifiers, IP addresses and device identifiers. Google Analytics collects information and reports website usage statistics. To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics, visit the Google Analytics Opt-Out Browser Add-on.

The website also uses cookies, which are small files placed on the hard drive of your computer, to improve the operation and functionality of the website. The cookies we use may include:

- Process Cookies that enable the website to function properly and assist in navigating pages and accessing services. Without these cookies, the website may not function properly.
- Session State Cookies that collect information about how users interact with a website. This may include the page users visit most often and whether users get error messages from certain pages. These cookies help improve users' browsing experience, but blocking or deleting these cookies will not render the website unusable.

Unless you have adjusted your browser settings so that it will refuse cookies, our system will issue cookies when you direct your browser to our website. By using our website, you consent to our use of cookies and the placement of cookies on your device for the purposes described. Our website does not respond to "do not track" or similar signals.

CALIFORNIA PRIVACY RIGHTS

If you are a California resident, please review our California Privacy Notice [\[hyperlink\]](#).

DATA SECURITY

CARS secures data through a mix of technical and administrative safeguards that are audited annually by third-party information security experts. CARS also has policies and procedures designed to promote commercially reasonable security practices. Nonetheless, the transmission of information via the Internet is not completely secure and we cannot guarantee the security of data sent to us electronically over cellular and wireless networks that we do not control.

CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy was last updated on [date]. If we make any material changes in the way we collect, use, and/or share the personal information that you have provided, we will notify you by posting a notice of the changes in a conspicuous manner on this website.

CHOICES ABOUT YOUR DATA

Website visitors can take steps to limit the amount of personal information collected about you. As noted above, website visitors can use various tools to limit the amount of information shared with CARS and the third-party vendors it uses to support its website.

Website visitors may ask for information about the information collected about them on this website. If you have provided personal information to CARS on this website, you can request:

- To know the categories of personal information we have collected about you, the reason(s) we have collected it, the sources of the data, and the categories of third parties with whom we share the information;
- To know the specific pieces of information we have collected about you (in addition to the information described above).

If you have only provided personal information as a result of browsing our website, i.e., you did not complete any forms or send CARS any emails or other communications, CARS may be unable to provide information about any specific personal data it holds about you, as we may not have any. Please refer to the table above for information about CARS's general data handling practices.

You may also request that CARS delete the personal information it holds about you. Please keep in mind, however, requests to delete data are subject to various limitations by statute and CARS may retain certain data as permitted by law.

Data requests can be made in the following ways:

- by writing us at the following address: 435 Metroplex Dr., Nashville, TN 37211;
- by calling the toll-free Data Request number 1-833-402-8661; or
- by emailing compliance@primeritus.com

We will only use personal information provided in a verifiable consumer request to verify the requestor's identity or the requestor's authority to make the request. An authorized agent may request information on your behalf if they provide evidence of their legal authority to submit such requests.

Questions about the data request process should be directed to compliance@primeritus.com or 1-833-402-8661. Note that the rights described above may not apply to information you may have submitted in connection with seeking or maintaining employment at CARS.

Verifying your identity is required before we respond to your request. To verify your identity, we will collect basic personal information about you to match with our records. Next, you will receive an email confirmation that your request was received, as well as information about additional steps that may be required to confirm your identity and verify appropriate contact information. You may make data requests no more than twice in a 12-month period.

We will try to respond to verifiable requests within 45 days. If we require more time, we will inform you of the reason and extension period in a written response. We will deliver our written response by mail or electronically, at your option. Any disclosures we provide will only cover the 12-month period preceding the receipt of your request. The response we provide will also explain the reasons we cannot comply with a request, if applicable.

We do not charge a fee to process or respond to your verifiable consumer request unless it is excessive, repetitive, or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that the request warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made that decision and provide you with a cost estimate before completing your request.

We will not discriminate against you for exercising any of your rights under California law.
